Trust & Voting

We won't rehash the blog posting on Trust and 'spoofing' the polls, but we would like to ask people for their ideas for improvement.

Currently The NEW Covey Awards are entirely public opinion driven. It shouldn't be a surprise to anyone that there is a strong correlation between the popularity of an author or book and how well the Cover does in the polls.

Although all authors benefit from this popularity, we would like to inject an element of Objectivity into the process.

One of the current ideas is a selected panel of peers who would have access to a private poll but please send any ideas or suggestions to

The NEW Covey Trailer Awards

Following up on the success of The NEW Covey Awards, we are pleased to announce The NEW Covey Trailer Awards.

The site will be run exactly the same as The NEW Covey Awards but for Book Trailers (also called Book Peeks).

We are currently accepting submissions for November at

thenewcoveytrailerawards@gmail.com

Visit The NEW Covey Trailer Awards for more details regarding submissions.

The Polls for October are OPEN!

We received all 30 entries for October during the last week of September so we opened the polls early.

We're lucky to have so many wonderful covers. As before, these thumbnails of our current entrants don't do justice to these beautiful covers. Visit the site at The NEW Covey Awards to see a larger version of the covers, read the back cover / synopsis and learn more about the authors and cover artists. Then vote for your favorite.

There are two polls.

Most Eye-Catching Cover - the cover that makes you stop and pick up the book to either read the back cover or the first chapter.

Most Relevant Cover - the cover that most closely matches the Back Cover / Synopsis.

Polls are located on right sidebar or you can open them in a new window by clicking the poll you want in the Related Links Section.
